1.5 ARTICULATION WITH MIGRATION ISSUE

❖ The example of the project commissioned by the commission “me and the world” during the 2015-2017 mandate, (6 commission proposed to young people: "me and my plate", "me and the digital technology", "me and the others" Me and the planet ", " me and freedom "and" me and the world "). The young people of the commission "me and the world" (17 elected) began their work with a presentation of international solidarity actions carried out by the Department: Niger, Palestine, Vietnam, South Africa, El Salvador. This exchange was very rich; testifying to the very sharp eyes of young people on what is happening in the world. Subsequently, they were invited to locate on a planisphere, the countries they know from traveling, or from their family origins. During their exchanges, they chose to meet the young people of a UP2A class and to associate them with their project.

UPE2A program: Allophone students must be enrolled in an ordinary class to receive them for general learning. At the same time, they receive intensive French instruction in coordination with the activities of their host classes.

In Val-de-Marne, 30 colleges thus 527 pupils over the school year 2016-2017

THE SONGS, TOOLS OF EXCHANGE AND INTERCULTURALITY

A project shared and constructed between the elected students and students of the UPE2A class of Molière college in Chennevières with the support of an association and French secondary school.

The students of the UPE2A class were invited by the young people of the commission "me and the word" at all stages of the project:

- 6 elected representatives of CDC
- 15 UP2A students from secondary school Molière at Chennevières
- 5 students from the choir of secondary school Molière at Chennevières
- Writing, recording of the three songs and production of a video clip, with the objective of spreading it to all colleges benefiting from the UPE2A program
- The writing, recording and production of the clip ("tool" of exchanges and interculturality) required several meetings of work of the commission "Moi et le Monde".

A presentation of the approach and the accomplishments was held on the occasion of a concert evening at the Molière school on 20 June 2017, the day of the music festival.

1.6 THREE QUESTIONS TO SHARE

How the working themes of the CDC can be built to raise awareness and make young people think about the issues related to migrations and the reception of migrants, "Better welcome the students from here, from elsewhere"

- ✓ a consultative committee dedicated to the future mandate 2017/2019? Cross-cutting issues in the committees, knowing that we can not foresee the dynamics and the projects that young people want to take. The themes proposed are wide enough so that they can have an area of freedom and proposals. Participation in dedicated departmental initiatives.

How to break with the isolation of the students of the UPE2A system, which for recall are attached when they arrive at the school to a so-called "banal" class and that they also follow intensive French courses.

- ✓ Towards a UPE2A student target at the CDC?
- Ensure representation, voice and ability to act .
- What is the meaning of our educational policy, which is intended to be encompassing and which envisages young people according to the greatest common denominator: "secondary school students", in order to work for cohesion and integration.

How to make known and disseminate to the greatest number of schools and young people initiatives, such as the one led by the commission "Me and the World"
