Local Action Plan

- The overarching theme is the need to visualize urban planning and development, in order to achieve cross-sector understanding and support for an integrated approach.
- The first topic is to develop the use of Geographic Information Systems in urban planning as a way to combine the physical urban planning with the social dimension.
- The second topic is to develop the use of statistical visualisation of the sustainability of urban development, in order to promote cross-sector understanding and accountability.
- Both topics are generally applicable for all cities in the world, as they are not tailored according to unique, local conditions. Therefore there is an excellent potential for a truly European-wide dissemination of the results.
